A Peek At What We Are Learning

Reading

We will practice our Storytellers stories, create story boards, and start reading and discussing persuasive pieces.

Writing

We will select a thesis for a short story of our choosing, gather evidence and citations from the text, and learn to use the interaction with another character to determine how our main character thinks and feels.

Math

We are starting our new unit on fractions. We will learn about unit fractions, fractions of a whole, fractions of a set, and key vocabulary.

Science

We will create bar graphs to gather data on weather of a specific city through the seasons.
